

Dear colleagues!

We invite you to take part in the International exhibition and scientific conference «Science, technique and innovation technologies in the Great Revival epoch», devoted to the Science Day celebrated annually in June 12 in Turkmenistan.

The exhibition and conference will be held in June 12-14, 2012 at the Ashgabat' Exhibition Hall, according to the Resolution of the President of Turkmenistan dated of September 9, 2011 by address: Independence Avenue, 104.

The organizers of conference

- Academy of sciences of Turkmenistan,
- Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Turkmenistan

Conference is devoted to the following issues:

Science and technique achievements for development of the branches of economy of Turkmenistan:

Innovation technologies in the oil and gas complex, energy, agriculture, construction, architecture, seismology, textile industry, medicine and medicinal agent's production, and other fields;

Environment and nature protection, ecology and rational use of natural resources

Energy and resource-saving technologies, Non-traditional energy sources;
Informational and telecommunication technologies.

The subjects of the conference can be supplemented according to the proposals of the participants.

Requirements for official registration of the materials for participation in the conference you can find at website of the Academy of sciences of Turkmenistan:

<http://www.science.gov.tm/>

More detailed information concerning the terms of participation in the conference and other issues may be received at website of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Turkmenistan www.cci.gov.tm

The deadline for applicants, for participation:

In the conference – March 31, 2012

In the exhibition – May 10, 2012

The Academy of sciences of Turkmenistan will cover the expenses of stand exhibition space of foreign companies and also expenses related to travel and residence in Turkmenistan of the conference participants that have received the official invitation of the Organizing committee.

ORGANISING COMMITTEE